TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PERILOUS RIDE OF BRAKEMAN

Failing to Stoop at Bridge
Was Struck by Beam.

Fell Unconscious and Was Carried for Miles on Fast Flying Engine —Crew Did Not Know.

DISCOVERED AT PADUCAH YARDS

Unconscious and with the crew ignorant of his perilous position, Sam Adams, 38 years old, a brakeman on the Illinois Central, was carried at the rate of 40 miles an hour into Paducah on top of the tender of a big freight engine, discovery of his condition being made just as the train was being pulled into Paducah depot yards. He is at home, No. 892 South Tenth street, with ugly wounds in his forehead and head, and will be confined for some time.

Adams was standing on top of the engine tender when Cumberland bridge was reached. He neglected to stoop to escape the cross beams, and met one suddenly. It took him across the forehead just above the eyes, and laid the flesh open to the bone. Falling lifeless to the tender he struck the back of his head on coal and inflicted another serious wound. The tender fortunately was flat and Adams' body was not jostled off by the shaking of the engine as it whirled around curves and up and down grades to Paducah. When found Adams had just revived from the shock.

Derailed Car Causes Excitement.

Excitement and confusion reigned in the local Illinois Central yard office last night, and attaches left the office in haste, doing circus stunts through windows and every other avenue of escape. They thought an engine was coming through the office.

A switch engine was working with the circus train, kicking cars about, passing tracks and hurrying the circus train into order of departure. One large car proved balky and the engine gave it an extra hard kick. It swayed from side to side on the uneven track, and when passing the yard office struck the bay windows in the upper story.

Splinters flew in every direction, and one side of the projection was torn away. The damage amounted to little, but the accident demoralized the force of clerks for some time.

Hospital Directors Meet.

At a meeting of the Illinois Central hospital board of directors which will doubtless be called for this month, the installation of an electric elevator will probably be authorized. The need of such a convenience has been felt since the building of the hospital. At present patients are raised to upper floors for operations on a hand power elevator, which is too slow and hard to manage.

The board will have a great deal of routine work to perform, part of which will be acceptance of concrete paving in front of the hospital, and other repairs and improvements made about the building since the last board meeting.

POST CARD FAD GROWS IN FAVOR

The souvenir post card fad in Paducah is not on the wane by any means, a fact easily proven in the sale of one cent stamps in Paducah, and the sale of souvenir post cards by local dealers. During August a total of 79,000 one cent stamps were sold here. Most of them were for souvenir post cards, and September bids fair to outdo its predecessor in one cent stamp sales, judging from the start made.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

MEETS THIS AFTERNOON.
Indoor meetings of the McCracken County Medical society were resumed this afternoon, the society meeting with Dr. J. T. Reddick in the Columbia building. Features of the meeting will be two papers, Dr. Reddick reading a paper on "Sarcosis Calcicinis," and Dr. L. E. Young on "Angioma and Lymphangioma." Business of importance will be transacted at the meeting, the first since the Metropolis lake meeting held several weeks ago.

DIDN'T LIKE CLIMATE TEACHER GOES HOME

Professor Thinks There is too Much Malaria Here.

Spent Two Days Investigating Climatic Conditions and Then Hands in Resignation.

A NEW TEACHER IS EXPECTED.

After a hasty inquisition into the duties of a position he expected to fill; also into the climatic condition of this end of Kentucky, Professor B. F. Hooker, of Chattanooga, Tenn., decided that there was too much malaria floating about in Paducah's air channels, and with a graceful courtesy, bowed himself out of the position yesterday. As a consequence, Superintendent John Carnagey had to wire for another teacher to take his place, and the High school is struggling with a shortage of one teacher.

Professor Hooker arrived from Chattanooga Sunday. He registered at a local hotel, but failed to report to Superintendent Carnagey until Monday. He had been investigating climatic conditions. When he did show up and investigate into the duties of a High school teachership, decided that Paducah was not the place for him.

"I telegraphed to Prof. C. O. Perrett, of Ewing, who is said to be an excellent tutor," stated Superintendent Carnagey this morning, "and instructed him to report at once. He resides just outside the town, and delay may be occasioned in delivering my message. However, I hope to have him installed and working steadily before the week is out."

There are 950 pupils enrolled in Washington school building this year against 870 for the same period last year. In the High school a remarkable increase is noted.

Senior Class Elects Officers.

The senior class has elected officers for the year. Miss Eunice Robertson was made president, and Mr. Will Rock class editor for the Ishkoodah, the school journal. The Ishkoodah will be published regularly this year, the first edition appearing next month.

This week it is expected that meetings will be held in the High school for the purpose of selecting a class motto for the senior class; also class colors.

Football practice begins this afternoon, and the High school team expects to perfect a code of signals impossible to beat.

STANDARD OIL.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Judge Grosscup, in federal court today fixed the bond for the appearance of the Standard Oil company of Indiana in its appeal from Judge Landis' decision at four millions. Standard Oil company of New Jersey accepted as security.

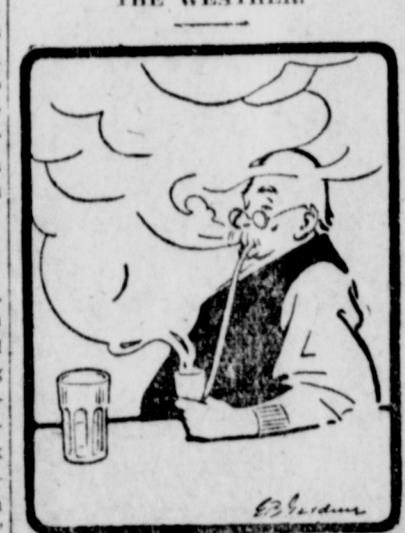

Will Locate in Texas.

W. I. Brockman and wife, of Kevil, have returned from a trip to Herker, Texas, where they have been prospecting. A great number of Mr. Brockman's neighbors also went down and they are very much enamored of the country and propose to locate there.

Council Sees Circus.

Meeting of the councilmanic board was postponed last night until tonight. Many of the members were absent, and those in attendance voted to adjourn and attend the circus.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday.

Said Prohibition Maine to Prohibition Georgia: "Here's looking at you." From Puck. Copyright, 1907. By permission.

Children Tie Mother to Bedpost That They Might See Parade.

Desiring of witnessing the Wallace & Hagenback circus parade and handicapped by their mother's weak minded condition, negro children residing near Thirteenth and Clay streets yesterday bound their mother hand and foot and tied her to the bed post while they went to town to see the bright wagons, caged animals and other attractions of the street parade.

Screams attracted the attention of Patrolman John McCune. He rushed into the house and found an aged woman tied hand and foot, and lying on the floor. Her legs were also tied to the bed post, and his first thought was of robbery. But quickly loosened the ropes and the woman declared her children were responsible for her condition. When they returned the facts in the matter were discovered. Her children feared if left alone, their mother might wander out or do herself bodily harm.

BOYS BAR THE WAY TO CIRCUS GROUNDS

Mischievous boys last evening barred the most convenient way to the circus ground, but the barriers were soon torn down by an impatient and disappointed crowd. Cars discharged passengers at the Washington school building on West Broadway. Concrete walks at the school afforded easy traffic to Kentucky avenue from Broadway, but big gates barred the way. For more than half an hour crowds turned back at the gate and walked several squares back to Twelfth street and around to Kentucky avenue. Finally several strong men placed their shoulders to the gates and forced them open. Boys had placed a large pile of bricks against them on the Kentucky avenue side. Supt. John Carnagey, of the city schools, stated this morning that the gates were not closed by his orders.

MRS. FAUNTLEROY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Mrs. Lillie Fauntleroy, 27 years old, wife of "Tab" Fauntleroy, a prominent farmer of the Woodville section, died last evening of a complication of nervous diseases after an illness of several weeks. She was born in this county, being the youngest daughter of the late Dr. B. T. Marshall, of Woodville. She leaves a mother and two sisters, Mrs. Jeff Coffee and Mrs. Jerome Harris, of this county, and two small children. The funeral was held this morning at McKendree church, burial in the Odd Fellow cemetery near that church.

Score Killed in Wreck.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 17.—A score of persons were injured in a collision between a freight and the through Buffalo express on the Lehigh Valley road in Pattenburg tunnel this morning. All the injured were in the smoker. A greater number were able to continue their journey.

Football Coach Hurt.

Roscoe Reed, son of Circuit Judge William Reed, and coach for the Culley football team, dislocated three fingers in explaining a difficult play last evening. He struck his hand against a player's arm.

CIRCUS AND RAILROAD MEN SPEND MONEY

Merchants Have Good Trade

All Day Yesterday—
Postoffice Busy.

The advent of the combined Hagenback & Wallace circuses into Paducah was felt in many ways. Financially it made itself felt with merchants. Although it carried away a great deal of cash, it left a great deal, the weekly pay day coming on Monday and giving our merchants an opportunity to reap the benefit. Merchants report a brisk business, about equally divided between showmen and railroad employees, the latter having a monthly pay day yesterday.

Over $1,000 in Money Orders.

At the Postoffice clerks were kept busy both morning and afternoon. Over $1,000 was sent away by circus employees in money orders, money being sent to all parts of the globe. Danied McFadden, money order clerk stated that to enumerate the many towns and countries he filled out order blanks for, would be impossible.

C. Johnson, for years employed about local restaurants and hotels in Paducah, had the "feed contract" for the big circuses. He contracts for feeding employees, and is said to have a "good thing" in the agreement.

Yesterday morning the mail agent for the shows appeared at the post office with mail bags. He carried away in the morning a full load, and again in the afternoon was weighted down with mail matter. It is stated by clerks in the postoffice department that he secured altogether as much mail as the heaviest laden carrier delivers in one day, two deliveries. Letters came from all parts of the globe.

Railroad Gets Some Coin.

The Illinois Central railroad collected several hundred dollars from the circus for repairing cars. Thirty cars were repaired yesterday while the shows were exhibiting, and while the total repair bill is not divulged, it is said the total will be nearly $500.

Rudy-Phillips & Company have secured the contract for new shades for all the city school buildings, and are now filling the order.

Dairymen Will Increase Price of Milk and Butter to Consumers.

Local dairymen will increase the price of milk and dairy products the first of the month. Milk is now selling for 22 cents and will be 27 after the first of the month. Butter will be increased proportionately. This, however, is the usual increase incident to the fall season. The pasture season is over and dairymen's expenses increase as a result.

"Do you know there are over 2,600 cheese factories in the state of Wisconsin and that the value of the total product of the state is $16,000,000 a year?" said a prominent dairyman today. "One wonders where all the cheese goes to, but it is a fact that there is quite a scarcity of the product and the price is very firm."

The price of eggs and poultry, no doubt, will also increase shortly and the poor housekeepers, who have been bewailing the increased price of everything "will have to pay the freight."

JUDGE BROWN SPEAKS TONIGHT

Should be Given Good Hearing by Citizens.

Noted Jurist and Founder of Juvenile Courts—Was Father of Anti-Cigarette Law.

LECTURE FREE TO PUBLIC.

This evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Kentucky theater, Judge Willis Brown, of Salt Lake City, Utah, will speak to the citizens of Paducah, to arouse an interest in the juvenile court in this city. It is quite an honor for Paducah to have captured Judge Brown and he should be greeted by a packed house. He is accustomed to immense audiences in the large cities he visits. The juvenile court is the most helpful work of the Christian era in boy life, and reaches a depth that has hitherto been unsounded. Judge Lightfoot, who has had recent experience with juvenile court needs in Paducah, recognized the urgent need of Judge Brown in Paducah, and heartily co-operated, not just endorsed only, with the Woman's club, to secure him. Judge Brown stands at the head of this great philanthropic work in America and is the father of the anti-cigarette law as well. He will soon sail for Europe to further this work there. He is an able and magnetic speaker and citizens of all classes and ages should hear him. It is urged that all the men and boys especially be present but the ladies will be interested as well. The lecture is entirely without charge for admission. Only the boxes have been sold to meet the expenses of the theater. All other seats are absolutely free.

INDIANA POLITICS.

Indianapolis, Sept. 17.—The gubernatorial candidacy of Congressman Watson has swung the Fairbanks-Beveridge clans in Indiana into an open fight. Watson is Fairbanks' candidate, while Beveridge is supporting former Attorney General Miller. If the fight continues Fairbanks will not get the solid Indiana delegation to the national Republican convention.

KISSING CASE.

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—After a trial lasting three days, Presiding Elder Henthorne was declared not guilty by East Ohio Methodist conference today. He was charged with kissing a young woman.

ENGLISH DERBY.

New York, Sept. 17.—John E. Madden has nominated six yearlings for the English Derby in 1909. The same individuals are also named for the grand Prix De Paris, the richest event of the French turf.

CHICAGO CHARTER.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Chicago will decide today whether the city shall have a new charter. If the charter is adopted expenditures for the maintenance of all city departments will rest entirely with the mayor, coming directly under his control. There is considerable opposition to this centralization of powers.

McKINLEY MONUMENT.

Canton, O., Sept. 17.—The trustee of the National McKinley Memorial association is in session today completing arrangements for the dedication of the McKinley monument Friday. Among members present are Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou and Vice President Fairbanks.

EXPLOSION.

Tokio, Sept. 17.—An explosion is reported on the Japanese battleship Kashima in which a twelve-inch shell exploded causing forty casualties.

APPEAL TO UNIONS.

Washington, Sept. 17.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, today issued an appeal to organized labor for funds to assist striking telegraphers.

Father H. W. Jansen, who was injured Sunday night in the head while trying to escape being struck by a street car, is out on the streets today.

MONUMENT IS NOW ASSURED

Mr. Tighlman and U. D. C.
Reach Decision.

Son of Noted Confederate General
Makes Liberal Provision to Perpetuate Father's Memory.

EMPLOYS A NOTED SCULPTOR.

Mr. Frederick B. Tighlman of New York City, son of the late General Lloyd Tighlman, a gallant Paducah soldier who fell during the Civil war, arrived in the city last night to visit his old home and to consult the local order of the Daughters of the Confederacy and James Walbert camp of Confederate Veterans, with reference to a statue to his distinguished father he proposes to erect in Paducah. Lang park has been decided upon as the site for the statue, and Mr. Tighlman visited it today with president of the park commissioners, Dr. D. G. Murrell, Mr. B. H. Scott and other Confederate veterans, and was very much pleased with it.

The plans for the park have been drawn with the understanding that the statue is to be placed in the center and the drawings were shown Mr. Tighlman today. Work on the park has been progressing slowly on account of the difficulty the commissioners have had in getting dirt to properly grade it, but the contractors promise to have it completed in two or three weeks.

Last evening Mr. Tighlman met with members of the local chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, at Mrs. James Koger's residence. He stated regarding the meeting:

"We discussed the matter of erecting a memorial at length, and reached a definite decision, Mr. Tighlman, one of the best sculptors in the country, will be given the matter to work out. He will model in clay for a cast and then have a bronze figure moulded. The size will be heroic, about eight feet high, mounted on a granite base. The base will of course correspond in height with the figure, the total height from base to peak being 16 feet."

"I will leave here tomorrow evening for Vicksburg where I will meet commissioners of the national park and confer with them relative to a memorial to my father. I will say in regard to the memorial to be erected here, that it will be second to none, and an object of which the city can easily justly feel proud. How soon it will be finished can not be determined. It may be two years. A mechanic might rush a job through, but an artist working on such a job will never be satisfied until he has gotten the very best out of himself."

Mr. Tighlman is 60 years old, but does not look it. When he came to Paducah he was but nine years old, but remembered vividly many points. He found only a few residents here he knew in his boyhood, and but few remaining landmarks. He was surprised at the growth and progress of the city, complimenting the progressive spirit in evidence in every locality he was taken through in his drive this morning.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

Tomorrow morning at 10 the subject will be "Sin and Atonement" and in the evening at 7:30 the subject will be "Renewal of Heart and Spirit."

Stenographer Goes To Louisville.

Miss Mattie Brown, formerly stenographer in the office of Attorney C. C. Grassham, left this morning for Louisville to reside. She has been for several years connected as stenographer with the biggest law offices in Paducah. Her family left several days ago. Miss Brown has accepted a position in the offices of the Aetna Insurance company. Miss Frances Johnson, of Fourth and Clark streets, has succeeded Miss Brown in Attorney Grassham's office.

Umpire May Recover.

St. Louis, Sept. 17.—Umpire Billy Evans, who was injured by a pop bottle thrown at the ball park Sunday, is resting easy today. Physicians say he has a splendid chance of recovery.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by everyone. Young or old, those in robust health, or those whose systems are delicate and run-down, may use it with the same good results, and equally without fear of any unpleasant or injurious effects. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels, and so deranging the system otherwise, that even if the original disease had been removed from the system it is left in such a weakened and deranged condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. It is made entirely of the healing, cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks gathered directly from the forests and fields of nature, under our own supervision, and when they reach our laboratory contain all their original valuable tonic and blood purifying properties. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. Being made entirely from these vegetable ingredients S. S. S. is absolutely harmless to the system, and while curing disease adds health and strength to every part of the body. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles by removing the cause and supplying the circulation with health-giving and strength-producing qualities.

Today, the weather was ideal except that the heat was a trifle annoying under the big canvas, but in the excitement of the many feature acts, heat was forgotten. Animals were featured of the show, but other acts, several being new and never before witnessed in Paducah, drew deafening applause. No disorder was reported and the two performances were clean throughout, and the circus as a whole pronounced one of the best ever exhibiting in Paducah. One feature of the show was the work of clowns. The circus carried many clowns. Their makeup and antics drew much laughter. One clown, made up as an aged woman, entertained the audience before the performance. He would approach farmers, interrogating them in such a way as to call for a repetition of the question. He would whisper, clinging about the unsuspecting farmer's neck, until laughs from the seats awakened him to the fact that he was the butt of a joke.

From Paducah the shows go to Princeton, then Hopkinsville and then Nashville. It will close its season in the far south in November.

ILLINOIS EARNINGS DROP

UNDER TWO-CENT FARES.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 17.—Many Illinois railroads are asserting that their passenger earnings are greatly reduced as a result of the 2-cent law and they will probably ask that the law be repealed at the coming session of the legislature. The Burlington is said to be one of the roads which finds the new law injurious, but two stations, according to report, showing an increase. These two are Wyoming and Mendota. The supporters of the law answer the claims of loss by asserting that if the roads had retained Sunday and other short-limit excursions, the earnings would not have shown any decline, but, on the contrary, a gain. There will be a sturdy opposition by the public to the restoration of the 3-cent tariff. The three months' trial will end September 30.

JUDGE BREATHITT OPENS CAMPAIGN

Republican Candidate For Attorney General at Marion.

Ridicules Statement of Opponent That There Is No Democratic Machine.

THE LAWS ARE NOT ENFORCED.

Marion, Ky., Sept. 17.—Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, Republican candidate for attorney-general of Kentucky, spoke here yesterday afternoon, and began his stump campaign in western Kentucky. He characterized the present race for state offices as one of the most important in the history of the commonwealth. He asserted that the Democrats were seeking suffrages without any platform or declaration of principles, each candidate being left to promise what he pleased, without the power to perform. He discussed at length the platform of the Republican party. He made a plea for the voters to put the welfare of the state above party allegiance, and charged that the Democratic party was dominated by a political machine.

Judge Breathitt spent considerable time in discussing the Goebel law and its results. He ridiculed the assertion of his opponent, John K. Hendrick, that there is no Democratic machine, after the latter had made a similar charge in his race for governor in 1903. "I don't believe," he said, "that big-hearted, courageous John Hendrick belongs to any political machine; there is too much honor and manhood in him, but he is tied to one of its wheels and it is whirling him to political ruin." He impugned the motives of Governor Beckham in naming reform candidates in Louisville, and said it was only a move of the machine for the purpose of fooling the moral element in Louisville, and it was never intended that they should be nominated for the offices to which they were appointed. He talked at length of the financial condition of Kentucky, and charged the administration with the manipulation of tax lists, attacked the new revenue law and alleged gross extravagance and mismanagement in public expenditures. He assailed "night riding" and said: "The criminal laws were better enforced under Governor Bradley than under the present administration, the Lord knows, for he it said to the shame of Kentucky, that there has been for the last few years a perfect saturnalia of crime in the state. In certain parts of the state life has been constantly in danger, property amounting to thousands of dollars destroyed by the torch of the midnight marauder, peaceful citizens have been taken from their homes and subjected to humiliating and torture, homes have been fired into and women shot, either accidentally or purposely, and the highways have been infested with roving bands of lawless men bent on all manner of depredations and wrongs against inoffensive citizens."

Judge Breathitt said that the declarations of the Democratic candidates on temperance were about as binding as the vaporings of a backwoods candidate for magistrate, while the republicans favored a uniform local option law with the county as the governing unit. In closing he spoke humorously of the Louisville lid, and said the governor had no more jurisdiction in the matter than he had in the Philippine islands.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded, 50c.

MAROONED

ON BARREN ROCKS FISHERMEN EAT SEAL.

Were Forced to Watch Companion Drown in Desperate Effort to Reach Boat.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 17.—Marooned on a desolate rock, in the Pacific, their skill lost, no food save the flesh of a seal, compelled to stand helpless while their comrade drowned, to regain their boat only to find it in a sinking condition, and endless hours of incessant labor as they bailed to keep afloat, were included in the horrible experiences of "Crawfish" Johnson and Tony Machado, two members of the deep-set fishing colony, whose homes are at La Playa. "We had gone out to the rocks to get a couple of seal cubs," said Johnson. "Tony and I had got out of the skiff when a tremendous wave caught the craft, throwing Luigi into the sea. Machado, who could swim, at once jumped in and tried to save the boat, as well as help Luigi, but the sea carried the skiff away faster than Tony could swim."

"Luigi became entangled in the help not over thirty feet from the rocks, his head and shoulders out of water, but he could not release himself, and we could not reach him, and as the waves washed over him he drowned before our eyes, and all the next day his body floated on the top of the water and was torn by the gulls within our sight, and we were helpless. I figured that we must have stayed there seven or eight days, but the next noon the power boat America came by and took us off."

THEATRICAL NOTES

Constance Crawley Pleases.

Constance Crawley, in Ibsen's great Hedda Gabler, had but a small audience at the Kentucky last night, as was to have been expected on account of the circus playing as a counter attraction. She gave a splendid performance of the play, and greatly pleased her audience. She has asked for a return date and will probably come back next Monday night. However, she will not play Hedda Gabler again, but will put on one of the other Ibsen plays.

The World-at-Large.

What was wonderful a few years ago is now a matter of course. The electric light, telephone, trolley cars, automobiles—a thousand other inventions that are now so commonplace to us, would transfuse our great-grandfathers with amazement. The march of improvement today is more rapid than ever—so rapid that it is hardly possible to keep in touch with it, unless, through the medium of the most wonderful inventions of all—the reproduction of the motion as well as the form of life. It is this marvelous medium that enables Lyman H. Howe to transport the million spectators that annually attend his exhibitions to all parts of the world.

His new program more than ever, is the only true equivalent of actual travel. So true to nature—to things as they are—to events as they happened—is Mr. Howe's new program, that every spectator of it seems to go along with this experienced, enthusiastic globe-trotter, and enjoy the same delights of the journey (but without its discomforts), views the impressive scenes and curious places as if with his own eyes, and mingles with the motley throngs as if in person. The fruits of many months of labor and planning and of many years of experience are condensed in the program which will be shown at the Kentucky Friday, September 20. It visualizes this great, big, fascinating world of ours more clearly and strongly than any program Mr. Howe has hitherto exhibited. It abounds with beauty, instruction and entertainment more than any other exhibition of its kind at home or abroad.

WELLMAN RETURNING.

Gave His Airship Good Test and Believes Pole Can Be Reached.

Trondheim, Norway, Sept. 17.—Walter Wellman, of the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald polar expedition, who arrived here today on the steamer Express from the north, said to a reporter of the Associated Press that although he was unable to carry out his plans, he had given his airship a thorough test and was convinced that the pole can be reached under favorable weather conditions.

Blame Yourself if You Fail To Live One Hundred Years.

—DR. WILEY.

Washington, Sept. 17.—It was one of Dr. H. W. Wiley's stories, and he used it to illustrate a point.

"Two Irishmen," he said "were standing before a neighbor's house, from the knob of whose front door fluttered a somber length of crepe. 'Phwat did he die av?' asked one, 'I dinnow,' responded the other. 'When did he go?' persisted the first. 'He wint today; rist his soul,' was the answer. 'Ah, well,' said the questioner with a sigh of relief, 'an' sure, he had a foine day for it.'"

The point Dr. Wiley, who is chief of the bureau of chemistry, was making was that if one died nowadays under a hundred, he had himself to blame. It's a fine day for health in the United States, is the present period. According to Dr. Wiley the span of life fifty years ago averaged 33 years; now it is between 35 and 40—and much nearer 40.

This has been due in great measure to the scientific treatment and suppression of disease. The great medical schools of the country are turning out men who are not alone versed in medicine, but who are educated along lines that augment their medical knowledge and add to their efficiency in combatting death. The combination of schools of medicine with the university has led to this wholesome condition of affairs. The outlook of the modern physician is broader than the one of the old school, for his fund of general knowledge is greater and his mental equipment is far more diversified.

Dr. Wiley, to whose persistence the enactment of the Pure Food law at the last session of congress was largely due, is a firm believer in this. In fact, he lends personal and practical encouragement by acting on the faculty of the George Washington university, which has a splendidly equipped department of medicine and maintains one of the best and most favorably known hospitals in the national capital. Although his governmental duties are onerous, Dr. Wiley finds time to join heartily in the campaign this institution is making in an effort to establish itself as the great national university. The need for such an institution long has been recognized, and the movement has been acclaimed by President Roosevelt, every member of his cabinet and scores of other public men, and prominent educators. The collection of an endowment fund is now under way.

The problem of increasing the length of human life, however, is to be given another advance. If a proposal made by Dr. Wiley is carried out. When he was in France recently, whether he went to examine into the manufacture of wines, he discovered the disparity existing between the pure food laws of this and other countries. Articles for human consumption manufactured in the United States and intended for export, in a number of cases, did not comply with the laws of the country to which they were to be consigned, although they met fully the legal requirements of the United States. Foods manufactured or prepared abroad, and intended for this country, faced the same difficulty.

Now it is proposed that a great International Pure Food congress be held, either here or in some European country, and a uniform code be adopted. In this way there would be no clash of laws, and the highest standards could be fixed and maintained by international co-operation. It is likely that, as an outgrowth of the plan, a board of expert chemists will be created, representing every nation having pure food laws in operation. In this way complaints could be heard promptly and differences adjusted.

IS CLEVELAND'S REPLY AS TO HEALTH.

Insurance Duties of Former Chief Executive Are To Be Continued—Friends Believe End Is Near.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 17.—A reporter saw former President Cleveland in his home this afternoon.

"Mr. Cleveland, it has been reported that your health is not good, and I have been sent to ask how you are feeling?" said the reporter.

"Here I am, You can see how I feel," he replied, a faint smile coming over his face.

"Is it true, Mr. Cleveland, that you have decided to give up your duties with the insurance companies and not return to your New York office?"

"It is not."

To one who had not seen the famous statesman in several years he seemed to have aged greatly. His hair and mustache are grayer, he is not so heavy by fully 20 or 30 pounds, his face is much thinner, and the flesh on his under jaw and throat, once so full and firm, now hangs in folds and is somewhat shrunken.

HELD FOR ROBBERY A CHURCHY.

Man Who Claims to Be a Clergyman Is Locked Up in New York.

New York, Sept. 17.—Edward E. Matthews, 37 years old who said he was a clergyman and lived in Brooklyn, was arrested by the police of Brownsville station last night on a charge of burglary made by Rev. William A. Crosby, head of the Helping Hand association, which he says "does charitable work in a small way."

The specific charge against Matthews is that that he entered the chapel of the organization and stole bonnets, a badge of the society, two collection plates and an account book which Mr. Crosby said were worth $3. The alleged burglary occurred Saturday. As Matthews was unable to obtain bail he was locked up.

According to Mr. Crosby, the Helping Hand association has been doing little business lately and the loss of the bonnets and the badge, which were needed by the society's collectors, has practically put a stop to the work. He said Matthews had formerly been associated with Hope Hall in Flushing, and that about a year ago he admitted him to membership in his association, but later had to disengage with his services. All the charges made by Crosby were denied by the prisoner.

BONAPARTE DENIES HE'LL QUIT.

Attorney General on Way to Chicago, Says Report Is False.

Boston, Sept. 17.—"You may state positively that my resignation is not in the hands of the president and that there is no likelihood of its being offered," said United States Attorney General Bonaparte today at the Hotel Bonaparte preparatory to his trip to Chicago to take up the case of the government against the Chicago and Alton railway.

According to a dispatch in a morning paper he had resigned on account of the granting of immunity to the Chicago and Alton.

It was stated that the attorney general had learned with amazement that immunity had been promised in every other case against the Chicago and Alton, where other roads had been equally culpable with the oil company. Mr. Bonaparte, it was said, was indignant at the outlook and had declared that this was the last straw in the situation which had found him at best not in very close touch with his subordinates.

When asked about the various points Mr. Bonaparte rejoined pleasantly:

"I am not amazed and I am not indignant. The story is entirely without authorization."

CAPITOL OVERHAULED FROM BASEMENT TO THE DOME.

Senate and House Sides Repainted and Decorated—Structure Ready For Opening Session.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Superintendent Elliott Woods of the Capitol has announced the practical completion of the vast amount of repair and renovating work done annually on the building between sessions. For the first time in years the exterior of the dome was carefully and thoroughly treated.

On the senate side the rooms of the committees on interstate commerce, privileges and elections, claims, conference, post offices and post roads, the rooms of the vice president and the sergeant at arms and the document rooms were painted and decorated. Several ornamental skylights were added.

The rooms of the house committees on elections No. 1, Indian affairs, private land claims and labor have been decorated and painted. Also the folding, document and other rooms, as well as all the corridors in both senate and house wings have been painted.

In the supreme court section a large amount of painting has been done, the robing room being especially decorated. A large exhaust fan has been installed over the senate chamber. The substitution of more modern plumbing for the old style has continued. In the hall of the house all of the 400 mahogany desks have been scraped and refinished.

How about that vacant lot you own on the principal thoroughfare? Is it not your responsibility as much as the place where you live?

You owe your neighbor a "clean bill of health" at any rate. Get rid of those weeds next to him, or you are accessory after the fact.

Remember Friday and Saturday!
Clean up days. Get busy at once, everybody.

Representative W. A. Thomas, of Ohio, said in an interview that Judge Taft would undoubtedly get Ohio's delegation to the national Republican convention. He added that if Foraker's successor in the senate were to be chosen immediately it was doubtful if the senator could be re-elected.

The hearing in the Standard Oil cases, which was postponed from September 5 at the request of the officials of the defendant company to give them time to prepare statements as to the manner in which the various companies were gathered into one corporation, its profits and other points upon which information was demanded by the government counsel, will be resumed this week in New York.

CUT YOUR WEEDS.

It behooves every citizen of Paducah, whether he has any pride in the looks of the city or not, to cut the weeds and grass in his yards, and especially on any vacant property he owns, at once. The Woman's club has taken an interest in the matter, suggesting that we should present as pleasing an appearance to the many visitors expected for the Horse Show and races as possible, but, aside from any pride one may have in the good appearance of the city, the weeds must come down as a measure of protection against the diseases de-cayed vegetation breeds in the fall season of the year.

By proclamation, Mayor Yeiser has set aside the 20th and 21st of this month, Friday and Saturday, as general cleaning up day, and it should be universally observed.

You need not wait, however, until Saturday; you can begin your cleaning at once.

The question as to whether the Chicago and Alton Railroad company is entitled to immunity from prosecution for paying rebates to the Standard Oil company, as developed in the investigation of the Standard Oil company, may be decided by Attorney General Bonaparte and Judge Landis after a conference with United States District Attorney Simms in Chicago on Wednesday.

EXPECT 15,000 ODD FELLOWS.

Wednesday's Parade to Be Climax of the St. Paul Gathering.

St. Paul, Sept. 17.—Visiting Odd Fellows, who are in St. Paul to attend the eighty-third annual convention of the sovereign grand lodge which opened yesterday, attended special services at the People's church Sunday, where the pastor, Rev. Samuel G. Smith, in his sermon emphasized the benefits to be derived from fraternal association.

The maximum attendance will probably be reached on Wednesday, when the annual parade will take place.
Fifteen thousand are expected to be in line. The formal opening of the sovereign grand lodge will take place tomorrow morning at Central Presbyterian church. Governor Johnson will deliver an address of welcome. In the evening a reception will be held at the new state capitol.

BODIES BY THE RAILROAD.

Several Theories As To How Men Met Their Death.

McKenzie, Tenn., Sept. 17.—The dead bodies of Walter Underwood and a young man named Allen were found on the side of the Louisville & Nashville railroad near Henry Station at an early hour yesterday morning. The bodies were near the track with only a few bruises about the heads and shoulders.

Underwood lived between Henry and Paris and Allen lived in Paris.
It is supposed that the men fell or were thrown from the passenger train from Louisville which passes McKenzie at 5 o'clock. Another theory is that the men were killed and their bodies laid near the track. The bodies were picked up by a freight train and carried to Henry where an inquest was held.

NAKED CORPSE

Madison, Ind., Sept. 17.—The naked corpse of a man supposed to be Charles M. Carr, a lumberman of Bromley, Ky., was found in the river here Sunday evening by William Frocks and James Hankins. Carr was drowned at Loughery Island on Thursday afternoon.

RECORD PRICE

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 17.—The record price for whiskey was reached here Monday when it rose two cents over the Saturday quotation, reaching $1.34, the highest ever known here.

"Dig Her Deep Through Dixie."

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 17.—Three thousand trained voices will lead in the song, "Dig Her Deep Through Dixie," when President Roosevelt reaches St. Louis en route to the deep waterways convention in Memphis, and it is probable that 5,000 people will join in the chorus. The melody of the new war song is that of "Dixie."

Sanitation.

To the Editor of the Newspaper:

While there is so much trouble with sanitation and other matter pertaining to the health of the city, I would just ask for information, by whom and how is the meat inspected that is daily handled and sold in our streets by the meat peddlers.

GROVER CLEVELAND
WILL NOT RECOVER

New York, Sept. 17.—"Mr. Cleveland is a very sick man. He has been confined to his house for several weeks with the exception of a few short drives in company with a trained nurse. Since the beginning of this last illness Mr. Cleveland has received no visitors except a few very intimate friends. This has enabled the family to keep the seriousness of his condition from the public."

This statement was made today by a close friend of the Cleveland family, who had visited Princeton a few days ago and who has been advised of the condition of the health of the former president.

As to the nature of the ailment from which Mr. Cleveland is suffering, this friend stated that it was Bright's disease, accompanied by gout, which has already affected his lower limbs, above the knees, and has kept him confined to his bed practically all the time for the past two or three weeks. These ailments have been further complicated by intestinal trouble, from which the ex-president has been a sufferer for many years.

The first intimation that Mr. Cleveland was seriously ill came when it was learned that he had not accompanied Mrs. Cleveland and the children on the usual vacation trip to New Hampshire, and that Mrs. Cleveland had been hurriedly summoned back to Princeton a few weeks ago.
She remained at Princeton until Friday, when she returned to New Hampshire to bring the children back from their summer vacation.

Dr. J. M. Carnochan, who is attending Mr. Cleveland, under direction of the Cleveland family physician, Dr.
Bryant, of New York, makes daily visits to the Cleveland home, but declines to make a statement as to the condition of his patient.

Those who have seen Mr. Cleveland say he has aged greatly during his present illness and has lost a great deal of weight. His appearance indicates a very feeble condition.
His complexion has become sallow and his eyes sunken and dull.

The friend of the Cleveland family who is quoted above, said that while Mr. Cleveland might live several years, it was hardly to be expected that a man of his advanced age should recover from such a complication of maladies.

"YELLOW BOY"

Escaped From City Jail Yesterday
But Was Captured Today.

Will Childers, colored, known to police as "Yellow Boy," and who can not control his nimble legs, gave another successful exhibition of "getting away from the jailer" at police station yesterday afternoon. He was re-arrested this morning and a second charge lodged against him.

Childers was accused of having engaged in a friendly fight with a companion of his own hue. He was arrested and delivered to Turnkey Joe Purchase. Purchase did not take the precaution to grasp "Yellow Boy," light, and as a result when he looked around the prisoner was in the act of leaping down the steps. He made one leap and landed on the pavement, was up in an instant and gone down the street at race horse speed.

Patrolman Ernest Hill arrested him this morning and a charge of pe-titory larceny preferred in addition to a breach of the peace. Missouri Owens, colored, charges that he stole $2.25 in cash from her. Childers had $1.35 on him when arrested and about 90 cents worth of bad liquor aboard when searched at the hall.

You Are Cordially Invited to Call and See Our Display COLE'S HOT BLAST Wonderful Heater and Fuel Saver

For Soft Coal, Lignite or Hard Coal

Cost of Stove Saved in Fuel

Shows Stove
Burning
Soft Coal

As you know one-half of soft coal is gas—the entire gas supply for many cities and towns being made from the same kind of soft coal you are using.

The extent of unburned gases in hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of a base burner when the extra oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas.
Other stoves allow this gas, which is the best part of the coal, also a large part of the heat, to pass up the chimney. This waste will average from $10.00 to $50.00 a year for every family and millions of dollars in fuel are thus wasted annually.

The Original Cole's Hot Blast Stove Saves All Wasted with Other Stoves

Cole's Original Hot Blast, by means of the Patented Hot Blast draft used in connection with other patented features, distills this gas from the upper surface of the coal, utilizing it as a heat producer along with the fixed carbon or coke in the coal.

On account of the patented air tight and gas tight construction giving perfect control over the drafts, it also saves the heat usually wasted up the chimney.

$5.00 worth of hard coal, soft coal or lignite, or a $1.50 ton of slack or coal siftings is thus made to do the work of twice the amount of fuel in other stoves and the cost of the stove is more than saved in fuel each winter. $7.50 worth of slack will heat your house all winter, five tons at $1.50 a ton does the work.

Build only One Fire a Winter

Cole's Hot Blast is so perfect in construction that fire keeps all night, and when the draft is opened in the morning will burn two or three hours with the hard coal or soft coal put in the night before. No other stove does this. Fire, therefore, never goes out, kindling fires is dispensed with, and the rooms are kept at an even temperature all the time.

Read the Guarantee. We are the exclusive agents for Cole's Original Hot Blast and sell it on the accompanying guarantee which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world. If you want to save half your fuel bill and would enjoy the luxury of getting up in a warm house on cold winter mornings without kindling fires, buy Cole's Original Hot Blast now.

Avoid Imitations

Imitations of this Original Hot Blast are many. None of them has the absolutely air-tight and gas-tight construction throughout which Cole's Hot Blast has by reason of its numerous patents. A Patented Steel Collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot open by action of the fiercest heat. The Patented Compound Hinge on the lower draft cannot warp, and the draft door closes air-tight by its own weight. The guaranteed Smoke-proof Feed Door prevents smoke, dust or gas escaping when fuel is put in the stove.

Imitations soon open seams and cracks which spoil them for keeping fire and cause the gas half of the coal and much of the heat to escape up the chimney.

See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" on the feed door of our stove. None genuine without it.
Ask to see the patented dustless ash cover for removing ashes. Our method is the only clean way.

there is nothing to indicate any further rise, at present.

The Clyde came in from the Tennessee last night with a big freight trip, the greatest part of which was lumber for Metropolis and Joppa.

The Inverness left for the Tennessee this morning.

The Ayer and Lord harbor boat, Castella, is at work again, after being laid up for repairs.

The Saltville is due down from the Tennessee en route to St. Louis.

The A. D. Allen will be off the dry docks Thursday and the Clancey,

Lamb, of Nashville, docked for repairs.

The Dudley will be in and out from Nashville tomorrow instead of Thursday. The ways is crowded with work, and Captain Williams says he has all he can do for three months now, and is turning away work every day. At present the C. and E. I. railroad has a transfer boat on the ways for repairs, and the Pavana is having a great deal of work done, which will require two weeks more to complete. The Kentucky will be put on the ways Saturday for some odd job, and there are more jobs to come.

There is a great deal of repair work being done at present and all the local concerns are rushed with work. Fowler-Wolf are turning down work every day, owing to being tied up with pressing jobs. At present they are at work on a new set of boilers for the A. D. Allen, which is on the dry docks, and a battery of boilers for the Wabash. They are renewing a battery for the Herman Poepeke, now being repaired at Mound City, aside from a number of other local jobs.

WATCH STOLEN

AND SEVERAL PETTY BUR-GLARIES DURING SHOW.

Straggling reports of financial disaster on a small scale, the result of the visit of Hagenback & Wallace circus, reached police headquarters this morning.

M. Leroy, of Fountain avenue near Monroe street, reports that some light fingered operator touched him for his watch and pocketbook, containing several dollars and valuable papers, on the show grounds last night.

Captain Frank Harlan, of the police force, attended the night performance, and reports that he lost his punch of keys.

J. W. Turner, of Harrisburg, reported the loss of a fine bird dog, which was recovered at the show grounds last night by detectives with the show, and returned to the owner.

Robert Bean, of Fifteenth and Madison streets, an Illinois Central engineer, reports that burglars entered his house last night and secured his baby's savings bank containing small change, but nothing else was missed.

Captain Harlan received many complaints this morning and yesterday of short change cases. Ticket sellers outside the show, and also inside the tent, are reported to have worked the racket on several unsuspecting farmers.

Mr. F. W. Katterjohn returned from Chicago this morning.

ANTI-TOXIN CURES VIRULENT LOCKJAW.

New York, Sept. 17.—A case of virulent tetanus, or lockjaw, has been cured by the doctors of the Williamsburg (Brooklyn) hospital. There are, it is said, only two other similar cures on record.
Six weeks ago, Mrs. Annette Koestling, of Williamsburg, was apparently in the last stages of lockjaw from a wound from a rusty nail. Her agony was so intense that she was removed to the hospital. A council of physicians agreed that her case was hopeless.
Nevertheless, Dr. Henderson, of the house staff, injected anti-toxin, and has done so every day since. A month passed without apparent results. The treatment began to show signs of success about a week ago. On Friday Mrs. Koestling was allowed to leave her bed, and she will soon leave the hospital.

SITUATION IS AGAIN OMINOUS

Efforts of Officials to Prevent Louisville Strike Futile.

Mayor Bingham Who Prevented Street Car Strike Unable To Get Any Concessions.

THE MEN MAY YET GO OUT.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17.—The local street car situation begins to look ominous.

Unless Mayor Bingham is more successful in the next few days that he has been in the past the situation will again be up to the union with the report that the efforts of the mayor and sheriff have been unavailing, and that there is no further possibility of an amicable settlement.

Mayor Bingham has had no conference with President Minary nor has he asked for an appointment, according to the street railway officials. However, he has had conferences with Judge Alex. P. Humphrey, John Stites and possibly other directors.

A gentleman who is conversant with all the details of the situation, and the mayor's efforts to bring about a settlement said this morning: "No Concession From Company."

"Mayor Bingham has discussed the question informally with at least two of the directors, and has received very little encouragement. The company appears coldblooded, and I do not think they will be inclined to make any further concessions. In fact the situation is exactly where it was two weeks ago, with little prospect of an adjustment."

The street car men, despite the reports of some of the leaders that they are not complaining, are insistent in their demands that something be done. They argue that if a strike is necessary now, is the accepted time, and while, to a man, they hope for an adjustment they want to have the suspense relieved and know where they are.

None of the railway officials would discuss the situation this morning. They are standing pat and awaiting the action of Mayor Bingham.

PASTORS QUIT; PAY TOO LITTLE

Pittsburg Ministers Make More Insuring Lives Than Saving Souls.

Pittsburg, Sept. 17.—Declaring there is more money in insuring lives than in saving souls, ministers of Pittsburg are forsaking the pulpit to engage in the life insurance business. Within the last two years a score of Pittsburg clergymen have given up their charges for this work, and all are making more money, they say, than had they remained with the church.

The last Pittsburg preacher to lay aside the cloth for the life insurance business is Rev. J. C. Carpenter, pastor of the Washington Methodist Episcopal church. He told his congregation Sunday he had resigned and that his resignation had been accepted. He said:

"I do not quit from choice, but from necessity. It is not altogether a matter of money consideration, but in consideration of the high cost of living. If ever the opportunity offers I will re-enter the ministry, but at present there is not a living in it. The shortage of ministers today is occasioned solely by the insufficient pay."

NO RACE PROBLEM

ON COAST SAYS SECRETARY STRAUS.

Situation Out There Purely an Economic Question—Japan Opposes Emigration.

Washington, Sept. 17.—There is no race problem between Caucasians and Mongolians on the Pacific coast. To this conviction has Commissioner Oscar S. Straus, secretary of commerce and labor, arrived as the result of his tour of investigation on the coast, from which he returned Thursday. Mr. Straus' observations have convinced him that it is purely an economic question, and though he does not use that language, what he says makes it clear that it is another phase of the perennial war between the union and the seab.

In Hawaii, Mr. Straus says, there is no race question at all, and his explanation is that they have solved the problem there by letting each race do the work for which alone it is peculiarly fitted.

"The labor situation on the coast," Mr. Straus said today, "in reference to Oriental labor is simply this: The employers want that kind of labor and organized labor is opposed to it. It is a mistake to regard this desire for or opposition to Oriental labor as a race question."

"Oriental labor is desired especially in such industries, for example, as the fruit and beet sugar industries, because, by experience, it has been found that the Orientals can do this labor more advantageously than the white men. It is objected to by the labor organizations for the same reason that the protected industries object to the competition of foreign goods."

"It is not a race question at bottom; it is an economic question, but race differences always accentuate economic competitions."

"I met, while in Hawaii and on the steamer coming from there to San Francisco, Mr. Ishii, head of the consular division of the foreign office of Japan, having charge of immigration and commerce. He is a very capable man, who has had great experience, and he has come over to study the situation. He will be here shortly."

"From various reliable sources I ascertain that the administration of Japan, the officials and government of its laborers. Such as come over here are stimulated to a certain extent by private labor bureaus."

RAILROADS ESTABLISH BIG TIE NURSERIES.

Foresters Appointed and Efforts Toward Production Follow Four Years' Study.

Washington, Sept. 17.—For four years railroads have been co-operating with the government in investigating the present the supply, the possibilities of planting trees for ties, and methods for prolonging the life of ties through mechanical devices to lessen wear and thorough preservative treatment.

One of these, the Pennsylvania, is the first to appoint a forester. Already 500,000 trees have been planted, and 681 acres of land near Altoona, Pa., will be stocked with chestnut and white oak in the next two years. The Santa Fe railroad has recently purchased 8330 acres near San Diego, Cal., on which to grow timber for its own use. A tract of 2600 acres will be planted to eucalyptus. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company will plant 378 acres in Carbon and Schuylkill counties, Pa., with chestnut, European larch and Scotch pine.

The Delaware and Hudson company, was led, by the results of a co-operative study with the forest service, to appoint a forester. The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company has been investigating how mine props may be made to last longer through impregnating with creosote by the "open tank" treatment. Plans have been made for the erection of a plant, with a capacity of about 800 cubic feet a day.

DEMOCRATS JOIN ARMY OF REFORM

200 Men Who Supported Beckham Desert his Ship.

Majorities Will Be Reversed in Montgomery County at the Coming Election.

REPUBLICANS ARE JUBILANT.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 17.—Republicans of this place are jubilant over the excellent impression made by A. E. Willson and Dr. Ben L. Bruner on the voters of Montgomery county Saturday. After the addresses of these candidates many old-time Democrats declared openly their intentions of voting the Republican ticket this fall, and a canvass made today by a well-known party worker reveals a decided sentiment among them in favor of the Republican state ticket.

He said last night that he had a list of 200 men who formerly voted the Democratic ticket in state elections, all of whom have pledged their support to Mr. Willson and his associates on the ticket, and their influence could be depended upon to turn at least 100 more votes in their direction.

Will Reverse Majorities.

Montgomery county gave a majority of nearly 300 for Governor Beckham at the last state election, but the Republicans are very confident not only of overcoming, but of securing at least 250 majority for the Republican ticket. Republican organization at this place is perfect, and between now and November every effort will be put forth by the party managers to swing the county into the Republican column by a handsome majority.

Mr. Willson's clear and explicit declaration of his stand on temperance issues, his unquestionable sincerity in the matter of making certain badly needed reforms at Frankfort, and his manly championship of the people's rights, has won the hearts of citizens hereabouts.

ENLISTED MAN CANT BE DETAILED FOR MILITIA.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Acting Secretary of War Oliver has decided that enlisted men of the army cannot be detailed for duty with the militia. This question arose recently when Col. W. B. Haldeman, of the First Kentucky Infantry, asked that a sergeant be detailed as caretaker of ordnance and instructor of recruits at the armory of the regiment.

FAYETTE FARMERS AFTER SWISS LABOR.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 17.—A committee of Fayette county farmers will go to Frankfort this week to make a personal application and request of the state board of agriculture and forestry for work hands. They are anxious to secure the Swiss immigrants that are coming in this week.

FAILURE OF RECLAMATION LAWS TO BRING SHAKE-UP.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Officials of the reclamation service are not a little exercised over the way in which speculators have taken advantage of the government irrigation projects to secure lands which it was thought would only be secured by bona fide settlers, who would handle the lands as serious agriculturalists.

In consequence of recent reports to Washington, it is expected that the rules and regulations of the department covering the manner of securing these lands will be entirely recast with a view to making it more difficult for those not intending to till the land themselves to secure titles to it.

In the recent settlement of the lands, in connection with the Mindoka project in Idaho, it seems that more than 50 per cent of the acreage went to speculators.

Drill For Boys.

Mr. J. L. Hughes, inspector of schools at Toronto, gives the following reasons in the Nation in Arms why boys should drill:

"Boys like drill."

"It develops them physically."

"It trains them to be responsive, obedient."

"It reveals the need of individual training."

"It defines in a boy's mind a consciousness of the need of co-operation."

"It develops a genuine patriotism, not an arrogant or offensive consciousness of national importance, but a genuine faith in himself and his country. When a boy wears his country's uniform, and follows his country's flag, and keeps step to the patriotic music of his country, he gets a real patriotic spirit in his heart and life. Such a spirit is one of the basic elements of a strong and balanced moral character."

"When a boy learns drill in his youth, he is ready throughout life to take his place creditably in the ranks of a country or regiment."

"Drill makes boys executive and the schools of the past have failed in defining executive power."

A Rock In the Baltic

By ROBERT BARR,

"You might have had torches," said Dorothy. "My friend forgets she was wishing the sailors held torches on that suspended stairway up the ship's side."

"I meant electric torches, Edison torches, of course."

Katherine was displeased at the outlook. She was extremely fond of dancing, and here this complacent young man had planted himself down on a camp stool to talk of electricity.

"Miss Kempt, I am sorry that you are disappointed at our display. Your slight upon British electrical engineering leaves us unscathed, because this has been done by a foreign mechanic, whom I wish to present to you."

"Oh, indeed?" said Katherine, rather in the usual tone of her elder sister. "I don't dance with mechanics, thank you."

She emphasized the light fantastic word, but the lieutenant did not take the hint. He merely laughed again in an exasperatingly good natured way and said:

"Lady Angela is going to be Jack Lamont's partner for the next waltz." "Oh," said Katherine loftily. "Lady Angela may dance with any blacksmith that pleases her, but I don't. I'm taking it for granted that Jack Lamont is your electrical tinsmith."

"Yes, he is, and I think him by all odds the finest fellow aboard this ship. It's quite likely you have read about his sister. She is a year older than Jack, very beautiful, cultured, everything that a grande dame should be, yet she has given away her huge estate to the peasantry and works with them in the fields, living as they do and faring as they do. There was an article about her in one of the French reviews not long ago. She is called the Princess Natalia."

"The Princess Natalia?" echoed Katherine, turning her face toward the young man. "How can Princess Natalia be a sister of Jack Lamont? Did she marry some old prince and take to the fields in disgust?"

"Oh, no. Jack Lamont is a Russian. He is called Prince Ivan Leremontoff when he's at home, but we call him Jack Lamont for short. He's going to help me on the Russian business I told you of."

"What Russian business?" asked Katherine. "I don't remember your speaking of it."

Dorothy went white, edged a little way from her friend, while her widening eyes flashed a warning at the lieutenant, who, too late, remembered that this conversation on Russia had taken place during the walk from the bank. The young man coughed slightly behind his open hand, reddened and stammered:

"Oh, I thought I had told you. Didn't I mention the prince to you as we were coming here?"

"Not that I recollect," said Katherine. "Is he a real, genuine prince—a right down regular, regular, regular, royal prince?"

"I don't know about the royalty, but he's a prince in good standing in his own land, and he is also an excellent blacksmith." The lieutenant chuckled a little. "He and his sister have both been touched a good deal by Tolstian doctrine. Jack is the most wonderful inventor, I think, that is at present on the earth. Edison notwithstanding. Why, he is just now engaged on a scheme by which he can float houses from the mountains here down to New York. Float them—pipe line them would perhaps be a better term. You know they have pipe lines to carry petroleum. Very well. Jack has a solution that dissolves stone as white sugar dissolves in tea, and he believes he can run the fluid from the quarries to where building is going on. It seems that he then puts this liquid into molds, and there you have the stone again. I don't understand the process myself, but Jack tells me it's marvelously cheap and marvelously effective. He picked up the idea from nature one time when he and I were on our vacation at Detroit."

"Detroit, Mich.?"

"The Detroit river."

"Well, that runs between Michigan and Canada."

"No, no; this is in France. I believe the real name of the river is the Tarn. There's a gorge called Detroit—the strait, you know. Wonderful place—tremendous chasm. You go down in a boat, and all the tributary rivers pour into the main stream like jets from the nozzle of a hose. They tell me this is caused by the rain percolating through the dead leaves on the surface of the ground far above, and thus the water becomes saturated with carbonic acid gas and so dissolves the limestone until the granite is reached, and the granite forms the bed of these underground rivers. It all seemed to me very wonderful, but it struck Jack on his scientific side, and he has been experimenting ever since. He says he'll be able to build a city with a hose next year."

"Where does he live?"

"On the cruiser just at present. I was instrumental in getting him signed on as John Lamont, and he passed without question. No wonder, for he has scientific degrees from all sorts of German universities, from Oxford and one or two institutions in the States. When at home he lives in St. Petersburg."

"Has he a palace there?"

"I was instrumental in getting him signed on as John Lamont, and he passed without question. No wonder, for he has scientific degrees from all sorts of German universities, from Oxford and one or two institutions in the States. When at home he lives in St. Petersburg."

Drummond laughed.

"He's got a blacksmith shop, with two rooms above, and I'm going to stop with him for a few months as soon as I get my leave. When the cruiser reaches England we pay off, and I expect to have nothing to do for six months, so Jack and I will make for St. Petersburg."

"Why do you call him Lamont? Is it taken from his real name of what-d'ye-call-it-off?"

"Leremontoff? Yes. The Czar Demetrius some time about the beginning of the seventeenth century established a Scottish guard, just as Louis XI. did in France 200 years before, and there came over from Scotland Lamonts, Carmichaels, Buchanans and others, on whom were bestowed titles and estates. Prince Ivan Leremontoff is a descendant of the original Lamont, who was an officer in the Scottish guard of Russia."

"So he is really a Scotchman?"

"That's what I tell him when he annoys me, as I am by way of being a Scotchman myself. Ah, the waltz is ended. Will you excuse me a moment while I fetch his highness?"

Dorothy inclined her head, and Katherine fairly beamed permission.

"Oh, Dorothy," she exclaimed when the lieutenant was out of hearing, "think of it—a real prince, and my ambition has never risen higher than a patry coat or some plebeian of that sort. He's mine, Dorothy; I found him first."

"I thought you had appropriated the lieutenant?"

"What are lieutenants to me? The proud daughter of a captain, retired, cannot stoop to a mere lieutenant."

"You wouldn't have to stoop far, Kate, with so tall a man as Mr. Drummond."

"You are beginning to take notice, aren't you, Dot? But I bestow the lieutenant freely upon you, because I'm going to dance with the prince, even if I have to ask him myself."

"She'll toddle away, as all aver, with the lord high executioner."

Ah, here they come! Isn't he perfectly splendid? Look at his beard! Just the color of a brand new twenty dollar gold piece. See that broad ribbon diagonally across him. I wonder what it means? And gaze at those scintillating orders on his breast. Good gracious me, isn't he splendid?"

disagreeable? I thought from the very first that Lieutenant Drummond was too tall. If the prince expects me to call him 'your highness,' he'll be disappointed."

"You are quite right, Kate. The next would suit the lieutenant better."

"Dorothy, I believe you're jealous."

"Oh, no; I'm not," said Dorothy, shaking her head and laughing, and then, "Hush!" she added as Katherine was about to speak again.

The next moment the young men stood before them, and introductions being soberly performed, the prince lost no time in begging Katherine to favor him with a dance, to which request the young woman was graciously pleased to accede without, however, exhibiting too much haste about her acceptance, and so they walked off together.

GRAFTER

WITH CIRCUS FOUND MANY EASY ONES.

Worked Time-Worn Canary Bird and Color Scheme—Losses Reported to Police but Too Late.

A grafter following the Wallace & Hagenback circuses, did a land office business yesterday near the show ground. He had a canary bird which picked out different colored bits of card board from a mixed pile. Farmers were offered odds at $100 to $1 that the bird could not pick out the color they selected. One farmer, A. Grimes, lost $30 and reported it to the police. He had watched a confederate of the skin game operator win several times before venturing his $30. He failed to locate the grafter when he returned some time later in company with a policeman.

THE GIRL AND THE BEE.

A Story of the Ignorance of a City Girl.

The city girl coming down to break fast at the farm house and observing a plate of honey on the table said, "Oh; I see you keep a bee."

That's about the way some people talk about the blight of baldness—just as if a bald head was something one got all at once instead of being the result of long depletion by an insidious germ which thrives upon the roots of the hair and succumbs to only one known remedy, Newbro's Herpicide.

Newbro's Herpicide is not a tonic any more than electricity is a fluid. It is an exterminator, pure and simple.

New York, Sept. 17.—Hoboes, "beats," "down and outs" and Coxey's armies of all kinds, descriptions and colors gathered at the Manhattan Lyceum and organized a local branch of the "Welfare Brotherhood," the Masonry of trampdom.

The gathering was one of the most remarkable since the days of the famous march to Washington. The chief organizer was James Endes How, of St. Louis. He was assisted by "Ben" Reitman, the "hobo king" from Chicago.

Dr. Ella Jennings, of Harlem, had the distinction of being the only woman present. She says that she sympathizes so much with the hobo that she could not resist the temptation of attending the meeting.

METROPOLIS, ILL.

By special arrangement The Sun will print a Metropolis letter as often as three times a week. The Sun is delivered by regular carrier in Metropolis every evening.

There was a colored excursion down from Paducah Friday night. It seems that on some recent excursions of colored people from Paducah that they tried to take the town. An extra police was put on for this occasion and when one looked some other direction, than straight ahead he landed in the holdover. This Metropolis juice is bad on strangers.

J. Lewis Starkes, a printer, formerly of this place and Paducah, but now of Milwaukee, is visiting his father, Reuben Starkes.

Robert Lyton, sheriff, has been to Chester with prisoners.

Allan Fisher, better known here as Allan Jones, is getting quite a reputation as a singer.

George Wilson, of Paducah, visited relatives and friends in this city last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sheets have gone to Mayfield, Ky., to make their home with Miss Beulah Sheets.

Miss Sadie Seofield is spending the fall with her brother at Hansen, Neb.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Henson have returned from Kentucky, where they have been conducting a protracted meeting.

Mrs. H. Choat is visiting her daughter at East St. Louis.

Elmer Grey loaded up with fire water Saturday. His sister tried to get him home which seemed to make him mad, and determined to drink more, and when they refused to sell it to him, he got bad and finally landed in the City Hotel to repent of his bad ways.

Earl Slater, who has employment in Paducah, Sundayed at home.

Miss Vera Mulkey, who has been visiting in Cairo for some time, has returned home.

Ernest Mathis is visiting home-folks.

Henry Kraper has accepted the position as foreman of Kraper's Esplanade cigar factory.

Otto Dye and Miss Fannie Hedge, of East Metropolis, were married Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Fred Rhealmyer.

Morris Ferrel and Charles Lenard, two popular young men, have leased the McCarty opera house for this next season. They will repair it and the theater going people can expect something first class in that line.

T. E. Willis and wife of Memphis, are visiting their parents.

Police Court.

JOPLIN CITIZENS PLAN TO CATCH DYNAMITER.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 17.—Several hundred citizens attended the mass meeting called by President W. A. Sanford of the Commercial club and Mayor J. F. Osborne at the Commercial clubrooms today, to consider ways and means of apprehending the party who dynamited the News-Herald plant last Friday night.

The fund raised to be applied as a reward for the arrest and conviction of the parties was delivered to a committee of five, delegated to take charge of the task of running down the criminal, and another subscription to be applied to defraying the expenses of such a quest was raised. This amounted to $690.

The project of raising a reward of $10,000 was dropped, as it was believed this would result in the framing of evidence against innocent parties and a conviction, regardless of the guilt or innocence of the accused. It is probable that a reward of about $2,000 will be given by the city and the remaining fund expended in hiring a detective.

The only way to avoid making mistakes is to sit back and not attempt to do anything.

AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS

It Develops That William Evans Never Committed Crime.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—After having served thirteen years in San Quentin penitentiary, it developed yesterday that William Evans, one of the convicts, is an innocent man. Proof positive that he did not commit the crime for which he was sentenced is now in the hands of the proper authorities. The judge who passed the sentence declares Evans is innocent, the man who prosecuted him made a death bed statement that he was innocent, and in a short time Evans will be allowed to leave the penitentiary.

Evans was convicted in Amador county for burglary and sentenced to life imprisonment.

MINERS KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Premature Discharge of Dynamite Costs Several Lives.

Washington, Ga., Sept. 17.—Information was received here today of a disastrous explosion last night at the Columbia gold mine, in this county. The explosion was the result of a premature discharge of a charge of dynamite and caused the loss of several lives. Telephone lines to the mine are out of order and details are not available.
